

EBAY INC.

«Product Manager»

Contact information

---

Contact name	eBay Inc.
Contact phone	(408) 376-7400
Location	England, London

Job details

---

Salary	by agreement
Job type	Contract
Benefits:	A chance to interact with other teams around the world at eBay, and influence the future of technology at the company. We work closely with teams in Europe, Asia and USA. Opportunities for travel, conference attendance and speaking. A competitive salary, great benefits, and excellent working conditions. Silicon Valley amenities - iPhones, MacBook Pro's, and great office facilities An opportunity to build applications which are used by millions of people globally.

Requirements

---

We are continually striving for the highest quality, and work in small focussed teams following bits of Scrum, Kanban, with a healthy dose of Extreme Programming.

Working at eBay is a rewarding, challenging and inspiring experience.

Job responsibilities

---

You will define and drive the vision for your product, specifying feature sets that exceed customer expectations and delivering against the roadmap. Your responsibilities:

Manage, maintain and prioritise the product backlog of user stories/feature specifications

Conduct research with users to understand customer needs and create mock-ups

Liaise and communicate between all disciplines in the cross-functional team (UX design, business managers, developers and product management)

Present product vision and technical concepts to product/engineering leadership and internal or external stakeholders

Report and visualise findings from data analytics and research